Explanations would be senseless and would hardly suffice. We only offer the club and all entrants our deepest apologies.

Chuck, Dennis, Floyd, Gary, John

Anyone who has ever undertaken a big project knows the sinking feeling of putting the last bolt in a motor and finding a rod bolt in the bottom of the parts box. This must have been the way the Veg-o-matic guys felt at Ft. Lee. Some of you may think that massive abuse is called for here, but you'll hear none from your Editors. "He who is without sin cast the first stone." There's not a one of us that has'nt been bitten by Murphey a few times. If your editors hear abuse, the abusers can count on their events being scrutinized in these pages in a manner that would make ol' J. Edgar's face smile and grin.

To Veg-o-matic: Nice try, Guys.

To those who didn't run: C'mon back-
We got lots-o-fun comin' up!

VMSC mourns the recent loss of two of its friends:

Dr. Abbie Thompson

Mr. Ned Williams

To all those who knew Abbie, and to Toby and Ruth Williams and their families, we express our sympathy, offer our shoulders, and remind that in the collective thoughts of VMSC, no one who has shared our lives will really die.

OTHER STUFF

Let me say right up front, I don't think Maynerd Stirup (one of our newer members, in case you haven't met) is turning all his knobs. In the computer game of life, his hand controller is sticking - you know what I mean?

Saw Maynerd at the VMSC picnic a while back and we talked for a while. He doesn't drive into town from his place in Oilville very often. It's not that his car, a 1957 DeSoto 4 door, can't make the trek -- it's that Maynerd only drives at night. (He said he got to the picnic at 4AM!) You see, he loves carrots - allthetime munching on one. Says that dirt in Oilville grows carrots so good for your eyes, that he can see just fine with no headlights.

Imagine, if you will, Maynerd in his dark green DeSoto with Stickshift on the other side of the bench seat (that's his bluetick hound), cruising on down Rt 250, about 10PM, thru Short Pump, with no lights. And Stickshift doesn't just sit either - he sticks his head out the window and sings. At least Maynerd says it's singing. Anyway, all this activity gets the Henrico Enforcers real tense.

But all this is getting away from the point, which is Maynerd's job. He's self-employed. At The Oilville Puppy Identification Works. If it's one thing that Maynerd knows, he says he knows dogs. It works like this - when your dog has puppies, you call Maynerd, and he'll come over to your place that evening in the DeSoto. After all the howdys and shakes, he goes to work checking all the puppies, turning each one upside down and examining it carefully. So when he's finished, you know exactly how many of each you have - males & females.

See, Maynerd's got this special system that makes it easy for you to keep track. Soon as he's finished you can tell - males have blue tails & females got pink! Yep, while he's checking-um, Maynerd spray paints each and every tail, blue or pink. He says he has a can of Black paint too, but he didn't say what it's for. (I suspect it's to cover up any mistakes!)

Maynerd says business is kinda slow right now, but it should pick up as soon as you all see this. Yeah, he paid me to write this - anybody want a carrot?

Stickshift? - A blue tail.
