GIVE US A HAND!

The VMSC Board of Directors, at their October meeting, passed the following proclamation: "Any VMSC member who locates a NEW autocross site will be allowed to compete in all VMSC autocrosses held at that site at NO CHARGE." This should be a great incentive for all you autocrossers to help us find new sites, and since it appears that we will not be allowed to use the Food Carnival lot next year, new sites are desperately needed. We will, with the loss of Food Carnival, be down to one site (Southside Speedway) and could lose that site at any time. Potential sites should be reviewed for size, safety, and cost. If you have any suggestions call John Wilton, Mike Weedon, or any member of the Board. THANKS.

*****

ERRATA

Once again our excessive efficiency has gotten us into trouble. Please note the following changes to the schedule on this months cover:

The rally scheduled for October 13th has been postponed. The new date is Sunday, December 1st.

The location of the November Board meeting has been changed to Mike Weedons office on Parham Road.

We apologise for any inconvenience, but then again - what the H__!

MISCELLANEOUS

Many, many thanks to Rick and Carol Carr for allowing us to hold the September regular monthly meeting at the Honda Training Center off Charles City Road. The facility was fantastic and the Carrs were great hosts. Thanks again. The Board is considering this and other locations as possible sites for next years meetings. If you know of any meeting place, preferably free, please call any Board member.

If you would like to OD a gimmick rally next spring, please call Mike Weedon and volunteer. We may be asked to host the 2nd annual IBD rally for the Big Brothers/Big Sisters. Thanks for your help.

DIRT SIMPLE! REPORT

We arrived at the start of the rally, on an absolutely gorgeous day, filled with excitement and anticipation. We were finally getting an opportunity to compete in a rally, our first of 1991. We were ready, however the day was so nice our computer decided to take a day off and we left the start desperately trying to remember how to manually calculate.

Leg 1 was trap free. You only had to remember the course following priorities and that where a choice of directions existed, you went Left. We however, introduced our own level of difficulty by ineptly calculating our speed correction factor and blasted into the control early. We proceed onward, still trying to remember how to perform the calculations.

Leg 2 provided the first subtle trap. An instruction simply stated 'Go most nearly Right' but since it did not contain NRC, a route change was required. The instruction was executed at an intersection where two routes went to the right, your current route at approximately 90 degrees and a bear right onto a new route. Brief argument, then onward - correctly.

Leg 3 reversed the above logic with an instruction stating 'Don't turn Left. NRC.' which was executed immediately after the proceeding instruction, since it did not require a route change and did not have to occur at an intersection.

Leg 4 was a simple overlap problem, requiring you to complete the distance over which a pause was in effect before going on to the next instruction. Oh yes, you had to execute a course following priority in the middle of said distance. Again calculations prove faulty.

Leg 5 was the old 'st' trap. You had to 'Turn at route 636' which happened to be the very route you were travelling on, so you simply changed routes at the first opportunity.

Leg 6 was a "confidence leg" which required you to execute many instructions without any positive indication that you were correct.

Leg 7 was another confidence leg. This time you traversed almost 20 miles while executing a minimum of instructions and remembering the previous leg.

Leg 8 used a Special instruction to turn you onto roads whose numbers were divisible by 5. If you ignored the remainders after you divided (and calculated correctly) you did well.

Many thanks to the Greenwoods, and the workers, for a delightful event. Finally, Scott - PLEASE get the computer fixed.

Neale and Scott

KOMEDY KORNER

The other day I called the Post Office and asked if 'MA' stood for Massachusetts or Maine, after a short pause the clerk replied, "And what do I win if I'm right?"

When asked in a survey if the terms of our Congressmen should be limited, Doug Burton calmly replied; "No, they should serve their full jail time just like everyone else."

This months honesty award goes to the pilot of a major airline who stated, upon returning to the terminal before taking off, "We want to check out an engine do to a warning light. After all, your safety is our first concern. We'll actually, our safety is our first concern - but you all come in a close second."

The other day while shopping, Shelia Hunter was approached by a panhandler with an empty cup who said: "Hi Beautiful - how about $5." Shelia retorted: "I'm not beautiful and I don't have $5." Where upon the panhandler answered: "We'll your not bad looking - how about $3."

It was the first day of school and the 4th grade teacher introduced a new student who was Oriental. After taking roll, the teacher began class with a review of American History. She asked: "Who said, Give me liberty or give me death?" After a brief pause, the new student replied: "Patrick Henry - 1775." "Very good" said the teacher, "now who said, Government of the people, by the people, and for the people?" Again a pause before the new student said: "Abraham Lincoln - 1863." The teacher then scolds the class because Toshiba knows more American History than they do, and as she turns to write on the blackboard, she hears some-one whisper "Damned Japanese." "Who said that" she demands, where upon Toshiba answers: "Lee Iacocca - 1982."

Gerry Eberhard really cares for his new car. The other day he stopped at a full service gas station and asked for a fill-up of Hi-test stating: "Only the best, please." Then Gerry asked for a quart of oil remarking: "Top of the line, price is no object." Finally Gerry requested the attendant to check the radiator and the young mechanic replied: "Sure thing, but what do you want - Perrier?"

The next time you're late for work, try this excuse: "Two working parents, four teenagers, and one bathroom."

If you really want the last word in an argument, try: "I guess your right" then walk away.

The ultimate hypocrite is the person who complains that there is too much sex & violence, on their VCR.
